

7 Steps To Manifesting Your Dreams!

Step 1: Dreams and Desires

Congratulations !

You have taken the first step to manifesting (co-creating) your dreams. This confirms you understand the importance of directed action.

You are about to discover an amazing process that will allow you to manifest your dreams. You will learn this is not a "Bewitched", "Disney World", " Star Wars" , "David Copperfield" or some other fantasy land program.

This is a process that will give you the intellectual foundation for co-creating the life you desire and an environment for you to form mastermind alliances to assist you in accelerating your progress.

Our members are boosting their results because:

- Each member receives the synergistic energy from like minded people with shared intentions
- Each member receives detailed guidance on specifically how to implement the Guidance Processes and transform their lives.
- Each member has access to professional featured members and experienced participating members for clarification of any question that is presented for consideration.
- Each member is able to quickly connect with like minded people with similar manifesting intentions and form mastermind alliances.

Mastermind alliances are one of the most powerful manifesting resources you will experience. In fact much of the business model of Manifest Mastermind is a result of the mastermind partnership of Steve Pohlit and Brian Campbell.

We are holding the intention for you to experience the incredible energy and results of joining our members.

Manifest Mastermind: 7 Steps To Manifesting Your Dreams

The Following Are The 7 Steps You Will Receive Over 7 Days Starting Now:

1. Defining Your Dreams and Desires
2. Gratitude
3. Blocks
4. Mastermind
5. Relationships
6. Wealth/ Finances
7. Health

Step 1: What Are Your Dreams and Desires?

In order to create the life of your dreams there must be a clear definition of what that means to you. Caution: all of us have expansion energy. This means we never stop imagining what else we might experience. So the opportunity is to recognize the process of having new dreams and desires never stops while we are here on the physical plane.

Recognizing the process never stops, is very important to happiness now. Many of us are often in the state of mind where we are thinking "when I have ____ I will be happy, or when I fix _____ I will be happy, or I need _____"then I will be happy.

Guess what, life is about an ever expanding list of new things we want to experience. Please recognize this and make a commitment right now to enjoy the journey. Our lives are not intended to be a long road of frustration.

By having a clear definition of what we dream and desire, knowing how to create that reality and being grateful for all that we have right now, we are in a state of peace and happiness.

So, the first step is to have a clear definition of what it is that you want and most importantly understanding the feelings you associate with that list.

This is our highest guidance at this point. In developing your list of dreams and desires, focus on the feelings that you want to experience as the items on list become real for you.

The stronger and more consistently you are able to feel the emotion of having what you want as if it is already here, the faster it will come to you. Push your doubts aside for it is only when you feel the feeling of having what you want - will you actually get it.

Helping you get to and stay in the state of mind and energy where you know that what you want is already manifest and is in the process of showing up is the single minded purpose goal of Manifest Mastermind for you.

More Guidance On Step 1

Manifest Mastermind always delivers more value than promised. While this is the abbreviated version of Manifest Mastermind Guidance Process 1 that all members receive, we will explain a number of other very important components so you understand how to begin manifesting the life of your dreams right now. Yes begin right now and enhance this process with each of the next six parts to this course that you will be receiving during the next week.

"Nothing Ever Happens Until Something Moves." (Einstein) Complete Your Dreams List and Form Your Mastermind Alliance Now!

We would also like you to understand that every physical event starts with a thought. Here is an example: you decide you want an apple and assuming you have purchased or picked an apple which is stored in your refrigerator, you get it and have your apple. It all started with the thought "I would like an apple."

What does this all have to do with Manifest Mastermind? Being able to do something as seemingly simple as wanting and getting an apple is actually no different from you wanting and manifesting more money, a successful business, a new home, relationship, financial freedom or anything else for that matter. You will soon learn the Universal Laws that govern how each of us create our reality. This means you can create the life of your dreams as soon as you know how.

In this seven part series we promise to deliver what you need to start manifesting right now all your dreams and desires and you receive it for FREE .

Members have the additional support for transforming how they think and feel with in depth training materials and professional resources. These include: exclusive PDF's with the detailed Manifest Mastermind Guidance Process, audio's of mastermind meetings held by highly skilled professionals on the current week's guidance topic, instructional and motivational videos, access to a valuable resource library, an interactive blog and more.

It gets better! We recognize from our own experiences that forming an alliance with one or more like minded individuals with a common purpose accelerates the creation of the desired outcome.

That is the idea of a mastermind. Simply stated you need to form a mastermind. It is not necessary to become a member of Manifest Mastermind to do this. Find a like minded person or a group of people who are interested in moving forward with their life like you are and do this exciting life changing course with them! You will be amazed at how this helps.

You may find them at a club you belong to, a friend, a classmate, a person who attends the same service as you. Members have access to large numbers of like minded people with similar dreams and desires. However, we again say you do not need to be a member to find a manifest mastermind partner.
